Discussion Questions: 2 Kings 16:

1. King Ahaz tried multiple forms of religion during his reign combining it with his worship of God. How do you think our culture's metaphysical view of God (i.e. there are multiple ways to God) are similar to King Ahaz's and Judah's view of God? What pressures are there in our culture to comply with this view? How should we respond to these pressures?
2. In verses 11 and 16 Uriah the high priest complied with the king's orders. What would make Uriah do this as high priest? Why do you think Uriah didn't confront King Ahaz? How do you think God views this kind of behavior?
