Discussion Questions: Genesis 35

1. What do you think about the apparent prosperity of Esau and his lineage as compared to that of Israel? What does this say about how we should view God's promises in our varying circumstances?
2. How do you think that the Edomite king list fits with the time of Moses (Gen. 36)? Does it go beyond that time? How do you think that the Edomite genealogy foreshadows Israel's own development from individual, to family, to tribe, and to nation?
3. Do you think it is significant that the historiography of Israel contains such a large section narrating the history of non-chosen peoples? What can be its purpose?
